

Introductions: Haven't I met you somewhere before?

You are at a party where you have met everybody before! However you cannot remember where or when.
→ You have to find out exactly when and where you met everyone else (9 other people).

Preparation:

Read through your role-card and learn about your character. The dates and places are very important so it might be a good idea to underline them, or mark them with a fluo pen and to make a timeline.

The game:

Start up conversations with each member of the group in turn, as if at a party, beginning : "Excuse me, but haven't I met you somewhere before?" and then asking questions about each other's past lives until you find out when and where you saw each other.

Use expressions like: "You look familiar", "Ah, so we must have met there!", etc

Note your answers in the chart below :

[illegible]

Introductions: Haven't I met you somewhere before?

You are at a party where you have met everybody before! However you cannot remember where or when.
→ You have to find out exactly when and where you met everyone else (9 other people).

Preparation:

Read through your role-card and learn about your character. The dates and places are very important so it might be a good idea to underline them, or mark them with a fluo pen and to make a timeline.

The game:

Start up conversations with each member of the group in turn, as if at a party, beginning : “Excuse me, but haven’t I met you somewhere before?” and then asking questions about each other’s past lives until you find out when and where you saw each other.

Use expressions like: "You look familiar", "Ah, so we must have met there!", etc

Note your answers in the chart below :

[illegible]